Treasure Hunt: Medina of Tozeur

With a medina of distinctive brickwork and surrounded by a lush oasis of thick vegetation and flowing water, Tozeur thrived as caravan crossroads beginning in the 14th century. Its massive, dense palm grove contains one million six hundred thousand palms, of which more than a quarter give the best dates, the “deglet Ennour”.

Today, Tozeur boasts comfortable accommodations and a museum complex known as Dar Cheraïet that exhibits in its beylical palace the arts and traditions of the country.
